

Contents

- I. Preface
 - Statement of Haskins Laboratories' Program
- II. Extended Reports and Manuscripts
 - Some Observations on a Model for Speech Perception
 - Voice Onset Time in the Production and Perception of English Stops
 - A Study of Semantic and Psychological Test Responses to Controlled Variations in Fundamental Frequency
- III. Interim Reports
 - Automating the Collection and Reduction of Electromyographic Data on Speech Production:
 - Introduction
 - A Code Generator for Identifying the Utterances
 - Measuring and Averaging the Data
 - A Transistorized Formant-Type Synthesizer
 - Coordinated Studies of a Syndrome of Impairment in Somesthetic Perception and Motor Function
- IV. Other Papers and Talks